WHY SO WEAK?

Kidney Troubles May Be Sapping Your Life Away—Bryan People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, kidney weakness may be the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills make sick kidneys well. Can Bryan readers demand further proof than the following statement?

Mrs. Mary Knobel, of Navasota, Texas, says: "My back was very lame, my head ached intensely and a feeling of tiredness clung to me. The kidney secretions were unnatural and caused me annoyance. I was unable to rest well and felt miserable in every way. I finally procured Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. I could not have wished for a better remedy, as they soon proved their merit. I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to any person suffering from kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

GIRLS' NEW DORMITORY BRYAN BAPTIST ACADEMY.

GIRLS DORMITORY AT BRYAN BAPTIST ACADEMY

Beautiful Brick Structure Now Being Built to Replace Burned Dormitory.

It will be recalled that during the past session the boys' dormitory at the Bryan Baptist Academy was destroyed by fire, immediately after which the patrons and friends of the school began a campaign to raise funds to replace the burned building with a finer and much more commodious dormitory. Sufficient funds for the purpose were soon raised, plans were submitted and accepted and the contract let to Mr. W. H. Myerlambers; work was begun at once and now the walls of an imposing brick structure are rising skyward.

The building will contain two stories and a basement with twenty-nine bedrooms, accommodating fifty-six students. The arrangement is convenient and was planned especially to meet the requirements of the school. Following is the plan of each floor:

The basement contains a large, spacious dining hall, kitchen, laundry room, boiler room, storage room, butler's pantry, trunk room, etc.

On the first floor will be the office of the President, parlor, large reception room and a suite of rooms for the president and family. On this floor will also be twelve rooms for students, and a bathroom with toilet and lavatory.

The second floor is devoted entirely to students' rooms, of which there are sixteen. The basement is of concrete and the superimposed two stories are of red brick of excellent quality. There are corridors on each floor and the rooms are large and airy, special attention having been given to ventilation.

The erection of this elegant and useful building is an event of importance not only to the school but to the city of Bryan, adding, as it does, largely to the educational facilities which are our especial pride and glory.

Popped Ice Cream.

"There's the pepper in that," said a restaurant waiter, pointing to a small silver shaker he had placed beside a heaping dish of ice cream he was carrying to a guest. "Sure, it's to put on the ice cream, too," he replied when an inquirer failed to see the connection between the two.

"Lots of folks want to put pepper on their ice cream. You see, if a man's stomach is sensitive the cold cream hurts him, but pepper is stimulating enough to overcome the effects of the cold. And the funny thing is that you don't taste the pepper at all. The ice cream is so cold that it kills the other. If you don't believe it I'll give you some with pepper, and you'll find that there's no taste of pepper there at all."

There wasn't.—New York Sun.

Miles' Grave.

"Which is the deepest, the longest, the broadest and the smallest grave in the churchyard?" said a pedestrian to his companion while meditating among the tombs in the burying ground at Esher.

"Why," replied his companion, "it is that in which poor Miles Button lies buried, for it contains Miles below the sod, Miles in length and Miles in breadth, and yet, after all, it is but a Button-hole."—Pearson's Weekly.

Effect of Tight Lacing.

"Is tight lacing unwise?" a teacher asked a young lady in a physiology lesson.

"Yes, it is very unwise," was the reply.

"Why is it unwise?" the teacher pursued.

"Because it busts the corset," said the young lady.—Exchange.

Maniacs.

Quite so. There are yet a few men at large who try to do business without advertising.—New York Herald.

Why She Quit Her Job.

A lady of my acquaintance in Tokyo, says a writer in the World Wide Magazine, possessed a valuable servant of somewhat mature years who rejoiced in the poetic name of Oharu San—"The Honorable Miss Spring."

One day Miss Spring brought in luncheon as usual. All seemed serene; there was not a shadow of a cloud in the domestic sky. But at teatime no tea appeared; neither, in answer to calls at first patient and afterward impatient, did Oharu. After awhile the lady went herself to the back regions and found—desolation. The charcoal box was filled with gray ashes, the kettle cold. Half the luncheon plates lay immersed in a bowl of soapy water; the other half stood on the sink ready to be put away. Oharu herself simply was not.

The next morning, however, she reappeared, very much on her company manners, with a clean kimono and her hair done in a shining bun to denote the state of a matron, demanding the fragment of wages due to her since the beginning of the month. The lady expostulated and asked why the servant was leaving thus suddenly.

"Oh," replied Oharu, "just as I was washing the plates yesterday I remembered that Saito San, the pawnbroker, wanted a wife. Therefore I went out and married him."

Unjustly Accused.

Andrew Carnegie, when talking about the Scotch dialect once, said:

"Scotch dialect is a lingo hard to understand, and it often causes awkward mistakes. Once an American divine spent Christmas in a highland inn. On Christmas morning he gave the maid a tip of a sovereign, and he said, looking earnestly at her, for she was a pretty maid:

"Do you know, Kathleen, you are a very good looking lassie?"

"Of course Kathleen was pleased, but, being modest, she blushed like a rose and answered:

"Ah, na! Ah, na! But my kissing, sir, is beautiful!"

"The divine frowned.

"Leave the room, you wicked young baggage!" he said sternly.

"He didn't know, you see, that modest Kathleen had been simply praising in her highland dialect the superior charms of her cousin Janet of Peebles."

Philosophic Tea.

The famous Adam Smith had all the proverbial absentmindedness of the philosopher. An amusing story of him is told in Mr. Fyvie's book, "Noble Dames and Notable Men of the Georgian Era." "Mr. Damer, it appears, called one morning upon the Scottish philosopher just as he was preparing his breakfast. As they talked the learned man took a piece of bread and butter in his hand and, after rolling it round and round, popped it into his teapot and poured the boiling water upon it. Damer watched with quiet amusement without drawing attention to this peculiar proceeding, and presently he had his reward, for when Adam Smith poured himself out a cup of this queer decoction and tasted it he quite innocently remarked to his visitor that it was the worst tea he had ever met with."

Grant and Pickett.

New evidence that the great men are the true men—true to themselves, to their country and to their friends—appears in a story told in Colonel Nicholas Smith's book, "Grant, the Man of Mystery."

While Grant was president General G. E. Pickett, who led the fatal charge against the Union forces the last day at Gettysburg, called at the White House to pay his respects. Grant knew that his old comrade at West Point had been made a poor man by the war and offered him the marshalship of Virginia. While sorely needing help, General Pickett knew the heavy draft made upon the president by office seekers.

"You can't afford to do this for me," he said, "and I can't afford to take it."

"I can afford to do anything I please that is right," Grant replied quietly.

Distinguishing Marks.

Willie—How do you manage to tell those twin sisters apart? Cecil—When you kiss one of them she threatens to tell her ma, while the other when kissed says she will tell pa.
